

Incendiary Succeeds In Second Attempt To Burn House

Farm House Belonging to W. P. Norris On The Wm. Brosius Farm Burned To Ground at 10 Last Night

HOUSE WAS UNOCCUPIED WHEN BURNED

A farm house belonging to Wesley P. Norris and situated on the old William Brosius farm at Montgomery was totally destroyed by a fire last night which was first discovered about 10 o'clock, entailing a loss to Mr. Norris of $2,000 with no insurance.

The fire, which was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, had gained such headway by the time it was discovered by neighbors that no attempt was made to save the building, the few people present devoting their time and attention to saving the adjoining outbuildings.

The work was undoubtedly that of a secret enemy of Mr. Norris, as this was the second attempt within three months to burn the building, as it will be remembered that on June 28th, while the house was occupied, a determined effort was made to burn it. At that time the incendiary took a quantity of waste from the journal box of a freight car at the B. & P. station and locating it at three different points about the building set fire to it. The fumes from the burning waste wakened the inmates of the house and the fire discovered and the dastardly attempt frustrated.

Since that time the occupants moved out, fearing a repetition of the attempt to burn, and for some time the house had been unoccupied.

The fire bug entered the house this time and planted his fire in the room farthest from the road, with the idea in mind that by the time the flames were seen by neighbors or passersby the fire would be beyond control.

Mr. Norris has an idea as to who the perpetrator of the deed is and at the proper time will offer a reward for his apprehension and a determined effort will be made to bring the guilty party to justice.

Auto Wreck Near Old Barrett Station

Cars Belonging to Dr. Woods of Houtzdale and John Cox Collide

An automobile accident occurred on Sunday evening about 7:30 at Barrett station which resulted in practically demolishing one of the cars, but fortunately all of the occupants of both cars escaped without injury.

Dr. Woods and his wife of Houtzdale, were on their way home from a visit with friends in Clearfield, and at the point mentioned met the car owned and driven by John Cox, of Water street, in which Mr. and Mrs. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. John Starr were riding. There is a slight curve in the road at this point and as the Cox car rounded the curve and struck the straight road its lights flashed in the face of the driver of the other car and blinded him momentarily. His car swerved and the two machines came together, a head-on collision being averted only by inches. The Cox car was mid-swiped losing a wheel and having the entire left side torn out, but beyond a bad scare and severe shaking up the occupants were uninjured.

Dr. Woods was able to continue his journey while the Orutt garage was called upon to go out and tow the wrecked car and its occupants into town.

BAYONNE STRIKERS WILL STAY OUT

Bayonette, N. J., Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Fifteen hundred Standard Oil workers in their first session today voted to remain out but the session appointed a committee to talk with Standard Oil officials. The session resulted in one arrest. Frank Parkinson leader of the men attacked the police "for not giving the workers a square deal" and was pounced upon by the police and taken to headquarters after the session.

First French Boat Arrives Unharmed

Caruso, McClure, Gatti-Casazza Were Among Notables on Board

New York, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Unharmed, the French liner Lafayette with many notables aboard, docked here today. She started from Bordeaux a week last Sunday and Paris and the United States had great fears for her safety because of the recent submarine warfare at the gateway to America. The Lafayette is the finest French passenger ship now afloat. It carried 324 persons, including Enrico Caruso, Frank A. Munsey, S. S. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Miss Anne Morgan, John Barrett, of the Pan-American union, and Gatti-Casazza. That the Lafayette arrived unharmed caused great relief along the water front. The American liner St Paul which started for Europe was heavily marked with the name "American Liner" before entering the danger zone.

Progress Prints Fake Coon Hunting Story

Proves that Hunters Know the Game Laws and Read Progress

Do hunters know the game laws? Do hunters read the Progress? Several days ago the Progress correspondent from Curwensville published an item relative to a coon hunt. The item was intended for a lead and it served its purpose admirably. It was printed with the intention of bringing out three points, namely: How many hunters were conversant with the game law; how many who were not hunters would try to ascertain who the successful hunters were and how many of them read the Progress. Up until Sunday evening, by actual count, 47 hunters called our attention to the fact that those coon hunters were killing game out of season, 106 made it their business to try and find out who the hunters were, and as to how many read the item can only be estimated. That was all there was to the item.

FRANCE RECOGNIZES CRETE GOVERNMENT

Nation Set Up By Venizelos Quickly Recognized by France Whose Consul Calls

BRITISH ENTERED VURSUK

Paris, Oct. 16.—French and German troops were fighting in a duel battle near Salig and Sallisel, General Folk reported. French troops repulsed the enemy counter attack to recover lost positions. The French government has recognized the national government set up on the island of Tetre by former Premier Venizelos of Greece, according to an Athens dispatch to the central news. The consul made a formal call on the Venizelos government. In the north German troops in last night's early fighting used heavy artillery and liquid fire but were unsuccessful, General Haig reported. Teutonic forces have broken through the Symos Pass. Austro-German forces are attempting a drive southwest along the railway to cut off the main supply line to the Roumanian army in the north.

London, Oct. 16.—A British patrol penetrated the Macedonian village of Vursuk driving back Bulgarian detachments it was officially announced today. British aviators attacked the Buk bridge.

Woodland Blacksmith Meets With Accident

Refractory Mule Throws Him Over Work Bench—Iron Pierces His Side

Paul Shirey, blacksmith at Woodland, met with a serious accident while at work in his shop Saturday last. Mr. Shirey was engaged in shoeing a refractory mule and in jumping about the animal threw him over a work bench and in falling he struck on a piece of iron which pierced his side, penetrating the liver.

Dr. Wilson of Clearfield, was called and had the injured man removed to the Clearfield hospital where his injuries are being attended to.

AMERICAN HUMANE ASSOCIATION

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 16.—Representatives of more than 500 anti-cruelty societies in the United States and Canada are here to take part in the fortieth annual convention of the American Association of Humane Societies. The sessions will continue four days and will be presided over by Dr. William O. Stillman, of Albany, N. Y., a feature of the convention will be a celebration in honor of the 50th anniversary of the founding of anti-cruelty work in America. The first two days of the convention are to be devoted to work for children, and the last two days to the work for animal protection. One afternoon has been set aside for the American Red Star animal relief work. Dr. Charles W. Delano of Boston will report on the condition along the Mexican border.

LIVING STANDARD IS LOWER WITH COST INCREASE

Noted Economist Announces Result of Investigation into Living Cost and Wages

FOODSTUFFS 50 PER CT HIGHER

New York, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—A lower standard of living is resulting from the increased cost of living and no increase in wages, W. F. Pearson, economist announced today as a result of a serious investigation. Pearson said his investigation showed that a family of five cannot live on less than $22.75 a week. This is equal to a $17.00 purchase four years ago. Food stuffs having increased 50 per cent. in the last four years according to Pearson's figures. Flour is up 100 per cent, vegetables 79 to 110 per cent. Coal jumped from $5.25 to $7.15 a ton, hardware 40 per cent and lumber 30 to 40 per cent, and dry goods have made big jumps.

EL PASO EXPECTS MANY VISITORS

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—Unless all signs are misleading El Paso will entertain the largest crowd of visitors in her history the ten days beginning today. Hundreds of strangers, from different parts of the United States, are already here to attend the international soil products exposition and the series of international congresses which will deal with live problems of interest and importance to those engaged in agriculture and the kindred industries.

There will be practically three events in one—the soil products exposition, at which has been assembled agricultural, industrial and commercial products from 20 States, all in competition for valuable prizes; the annual sessions of the International Farm Congress, which draws its members from two hemispheres and prosecutes an extended educational campaign, and the annual sessions of the International Irrigation Congress.

PREDICTS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP IN 10 YEARS

Washington, Oct. 16.—Uncle Sam is going into the railroad business within the next decade, according to Benjamin C. March, New York executive secretary of the real preparedness committee of the Intercollegiate Socialist society, an organization backed morally and financially by Amos Pinchot.

"Every railroad in the U. S.—252,000 miles of them," said March today, "will pass from private ownership within ten years to be operated in the interest of the public instead of the interest of privilege."

"The railroad capitalists, being human, wish to get wine prices for rain water. It is our mission to squeeze all the water out of the roads before the government takes them over."

Declaring ultimate government operation of all roads, inevitable, March said "the real problem is to see that the properties are not unloaded on the public at more than their actual value."

MEETING OF FEDERAL FARM LOAN BOARD AT HARRISBURG

William G. McAdoo, Secretary of Treasury, Will Conduct Hearing Tomorrow

Invitations are sent out to Farmers inviting them to be present at the hearing and give first hand information to board.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—(Special)—A hearing of great importance to the farmers and farm organizations of Pennsylvania will be held at Harrisburg on October 17th by the Federal Farm Loan board.

This hearing is for the purpose of getting information to guide the board in determining the boundaries of the twelve Federal Land Bank districts into which the country is to be divided for the administration of the new rural credits law, known as the Federal Farm Loan act. The session will be held in the federal building at Harrisburg.

The members of the Federal Farm Loan board who will conduct this hearing are Hon. William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, George W. Norris, farm loan commissioner, Herbert Quick, Captain W. S. A. Smith, and Charles E. Lobdell.

The board has issued an invitation to all farmers and farm organizations of Pennsylvania to attend this hearing to get information about the operation of the Farm Loan act, and to furnish the board with information about the farm loan needs of the state. It has also asked interested parties to present their claims for the location of one of the twelve Federal land banks.

Farmers will be asked to give information regarding the prevailing rates of interest on first mortgage loans; the difficulty of getting extensions; the rate of commissions charged; the development of farms as affected by credit; farm tenantry as affected by the ability of tenants to borrow; and any other fact that will give the board an understanding of the farm needs of the state.

The new Federal Farm Loan act provides a way for the farmer or prospective farmer to borrow money on long time mortgages at actual cost. The government provides the machinery for assembling capital to be loaned to farm owners or prospective farm owners. The loans may run up to 50 per cent. of the value of the land use as security and 20 per cent. of the value of the improvements. The loans will be made at a low rate of interest not yet determined, but it will be less than 6 per cent. Provision is made for the borrower to pay off the debt, interest and principal through periods of from five to forty years, at his own option.

The legislation is expected to prove a great boon to those sections of the country where farm developments have been retarded because of high interest rates, and it is predicted that it will tend to make agricultural prosperity permanent and uniform, stabilize and equalize interest rates, and greatly improve the condition of the farmer.

The nation-wide interest in the provisions of the bill is indicated by the fact that more than 100,000 inquiries have come to the Treasury department for information about it. Secretary McAdoo predicts that the banks will be established and ready to make loans early in 1917.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Business Men's gym class at the Y. M. C. A. commences action this evening at 5:15. This class is open to any and every business and professional man in Clearfield and meets every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening from 5:15 to 6. Every man of sedentary habits needs the kind of relaxation and exercise provided for in this class. If a man is run down and tired, the exercise received in this class will build him up and make him feel like a new man. If he is fat and developing a corpulent habit in a very short time he is reduced to normal condition. This class is worthy of every man's consideration.

Mrs. D. W. McCurdy and son John P. returned Saturday from a week's visit with friends at Carlisle and other points in that section of the state. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Martha Rhoads of Reading who will spend some time at the McCurdy home on Cherry street.

U BOAT ATTACK WILL NOT STOP WAR SHIPPING

Marine Men Believe That the Raider Has Turned Back Home And Will Molest No More

NO NEW RAIDS ARE EXPECTED

New York, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Shipping munitions to warring Europe will continue unabated unless submarine attacks to the American gateway would be more severe than they have been to date, the marine men said today. Discussing the possibility of new raids the safety of the giant French liner Lafayette, the Scandinavian liner Hellig Olav and the American liner St. Paul lent strength to the thought that the submarine raiders had speeded homeward. The Lafayette dimmed her lights when coming through the danger zone but encountered no enemy. One of the British shippers said that the submarine raids had not "effected the munition supply in the least" the only delay being in holding the vessels at this port which delayed their sailing only a few days.

WORLD'S GREATEST WATER RESERVOIR OPENED TODAY

Elephant Butte, N. M., Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—When the golden key which started the waters of the Rio Grande river flowing through the spillways of the great new Elephant Butte dam was turned today 20,000 acres of fertile land in the chain of valleys in New Mexico, Texas were held here at the dam, about 125 miles up the river from El Paso and about 1175 miles below Albuquerque and marked the completion of the Reclamation service's greatest project one of the most pretentious of its kind in the history of the world.

The Elephant Butte dam is a mass of concrete and steel thrown across the Rio Grande river on the desert of New Mexico at the point where a great rock, shaped like a mastodon elephant, seemed to drink from the Rio Grande. This giant impounding dam has formed the largest irrigation reservoir in the world. More than forty-five miles in length and eight miles across, the lake stores the melted snows of the Colorado and New Mexican mountain ranges and these waters are allowed to flow through the spillways of the dam when the land needs moisture. At the conclusion of the elaborate dedicatory exercises, the first session of the Twenty-third International Irrigation congress was held at the dam. The dedication of Elephant Butte dam today is an event of worldwide importance, said James G. McNary, chairman of the Board of control of the Irrigation congress. "It will justify the faith of the people of the southwest, who have staked their all on the fertility of the soil and the ability of the project to carry waters to the lands when most needed. It will reward the pioneer men and women of the lower Rio Grande valleys from Albuquerque to Old Mexico."

MAN LEAPS SPEEDING TRAIN NEAR CENTRE

Train Backs Up, Train Stopposed "Dead One" to Curwensville Where He Fell

CAUSE "SQUIRMEL WHISKY"

A Curwensville foreigner came to Clearfield Saturday night and fell up on "squirrel whiskey."

In company with several companions he boarded the 10:45 P. M. train for home. He sat at the window of the rear coach watching the telegraph poles flitting past. The train was reached when the "squirrel" in the whiskey went low him to sit still no longer and determined to get out and climb out of the poles.

The train was bowling along at 40 mile an hour gait, but that made no difference to the man with the whiskey. He waived the formality of having the conductor stop the train at Curwensville station and stepped right off the rear platform into space. When the ground hit him the impact knocked the aches out of the pipe of the steam locomotive at the Clearfield station. The train nearly and after about a dozen end over end revolutions the train wound up in the ditch along the track.

His companions notified the train crew and the train was stopped several hundred yards above and below back to where the victim was taken. He was picked up unconscious and taken aboard the train. When Curwensville was reached the injured man was summoned and after a quick examination and a few punches to his ribs he wakened up and bellowed at his feet but very little the worse for wear, aside from the fact that his head and face were cut up slightly and he needed a new suit of clothes.

The doctor's examination of the man, who is known to his associates as "Black Mike" resulted in diagnosing a ludicrous situation for the unlooked although no doubt quite a painful one for Mike. When he fell from the train Mike hit on his head in a under pile and when picked up was unable to speak and was clutching a Curwensville seemingly unconscious, and as a careful examination of the man failed to locate any broken bones or bruises enough to account for his supposed unconsciousness or inability to speak, the medical men were puzzled for a time, but finally discovered that Mike's mouth was so full of cinders that he was unable to talk if he wanted to. With the aid of a probe one of the doctors relieved him of about a bushel full of cinders and they found there was nothing the matter with Mike's talking machine and the soon aided them to determine that about the only thing injured about Mike was his feelings.

Wilson Refuses to Advance Thanksgiving

Day of Thanks will be Observed on November 26th

Long Branch, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Thanksgiving day will be the last Thursday in November as usual, which means that it will fall on the last day of the month. Suggestions have been made that it be not further a week as it came so close to Christmas this year and have November as the official day. It was hoped, however, that the President's proclamation November 30, as the day in the proclamation.

PUT US WISE.

Once more we have an example of what "Squirrel Whiskey" will make a man do. Now honestly, is there any such thing as "Squirrel Whiskey" or is it all the same provided you take enough of it? If there is a difference, please tell us where they sell it, cause we don't want to get any of it in our bottle.

LET US DO LIKEWISE.

Brazil will today pass a piece of legislation prohibiting the landing of persons who have been mutilated in the European war. It is a miracle that our own shores have not become the feeding grounds of myriads of wandering cripples from Europe by this time and it is bound to come before long. Europe will be only too glad to foist her war torn dependants upon us and charitable like we will accept them and help in another way to pay Europe's war debt.

HUNTERS SHOULD BACK UP THE LAW.

There is entirely too much Sunday hunting and hunting out of season. Every day you hear whispers on the street of somebody getting two birds yesterday or somebody getting four on Sunday. That this form of criminality is being engaged in is generally known to all and anyone knowing of these happenings should immediately report them to the Game Warden. Unfortunately the Game Warden does not hear of the violations and instead of having all the hunters at his back in the enforcement of the law the hunters are evading their duty to the man who is trying to enforce the law and thereby protect them. It is the duty of every man who carries a gun to co-operate with the Game Warden and report every infraction of law to him. The Progress calls on all readers of the Hunter's Page to be real hunters and not game hogs.

BLOWING YOUR HORN.

"Whosoever bloweth not his own 'bazoo,' the same shall not be heard."

The meaning of an old proverb adapted to present day slang method of expression. Just as true today as the day it was written. Every one has to make their own way in the world and sometimes we have to remind others of our good deeds in order to get a hearing and just recompense. Generally a man betrays himself by his expressions of and declarations of modesty. One having a profession or business cannot afford to cover it up under false modesty. To be afraid or ashamed to discuss or speak of your business or profession is an acknowledgement of your own lack of confidence in it. Imagine the painter who would be afraid to show his skill. Imagine the business man who would have good values in his store and still be too modest and retiring to tell his customers of them. Imagine the automobile salesman who would tell you that he had a good car to sell and would not have enough confidence in it to say "Come out for a spin and I can show you it will take Cemetery Hill on high gear."

A great many people are misunderstood. We call them cranks because they daily preach that which they believe. We should give all credit to the man who firmly believes in his profession, his business or in certain principles and steadfastly adheres to them though his loyalty to his convictions brings him ridicule and harsh criticism. Without men of strong convictions and stiff backbone we would be a nation of wavering peons. Give all credit to the man who preaches his belief.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

"The strongly fortified town of Vidin (also spelled Vidin and Vidin), from which the Bulgarians have made an attack on the Rumanian town of Salafat, is one of the most prosperous grain ports on the right bank of the Danube below Belgrade," says today's war geography bulletin of the National Geographic Society.

"Sited in the northwest corner of the kingdom of Bulgaria, 130 miles in an air line southeast of the Serbian capital of Belgrade, 100 miles northwest of Sofia, and 170 west of Bucharest, this city was, before the outbreak of this war, a center of activity for trade between Austria and the Balkan states. Vidin is a neutral stronghold because of the extensive surrounding marshes formed by the numerous small streams flowing into the Danube at this point. The fortifications were razed following the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78, but they were reconstructed during the Serbo-Bulgarian conflict of 20 years ago. Portions of the old wall and four of its nine towers still encircle the old town but the newer section lies along the bank of the river.

"An interesting element among the city's 16,000 inhabitants is a settlement of Spanish Jews, 1,500 in number, descendants of a small colony which fled from Spain during the Inquisition of the 16th century. The Turks residing in the town number nearly 3,000.

"While the trade in cereals and fruits, the considerable fisheries, and the numerous breweries afford livelihood for the majority of the Vidinians, the city is chiefly noted for the beautiful filigree work in gold and silver which is manufactured here.

"Like most of the towns and forts on the Danube in the vicinity of the Hungarian border, Vidin suffered sorely from the tides of Turks and Christians as they swept through and over it in the 17th century. In the Austro-Turkish struggle of 1682-99 it was captured by Louis, margrave of Baden, one of the most celebrated generals of his day, but it remained in his hands only one year, for in the succeeding campaign it was recaptured by the Ottoman forces which also retook Nisch and Belgrade.

"Vidin was given its 'place in the sun' by a notoriously ruthless but remarkably efficient chieftain of the Krjalis, Pasvan Oglu, who here established an independent state in 1704. The Krjalis were disbanded Turkish soldiers and desperadoes who during the last half of the 18th century wandered through Bulgaria preying upon peasants, slaying, robbing, burning all who were so unfortunate as to stand in their path. Pasvan Oglu amalgamated these bandits and highwaymen and as their leader established himself at Vidin, where he was able to defy and defeat three Turkish armies sent against him. He erected handsome buildings, maintained order within his own capital, levied taxes and even issued a special coinage. When he finally submitted to a superior force sent against him the Porte deemed it wiser to reinstate him as governor than to displace him with a less forcible subject. With his death in 1807 Vidin's importance waned.

"In the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78 Prince Charles, of Roumania, at the head of an army of 35,000 men, with his own hand fired the first cannon against Vidin from the Rumanian town of Calafat. At that time the Bulgarian stronghold was garrisoned by Osman Pasha's army of 30,000 Turks who had just completed their successful campaign against Serbia. Eight years later, in the Serbo-Bulgarian struggle, Vidin was successfully defended by the Bulgarians. Calafat, on the Rumanian side of the river, is not more than half as populous as Vidin. It was founded

ON THE SCREEN

"GUN OR GOSPEL?"

The story of the triangle feature "The Apostle of Vengeance" which will be shown at the Opera House tonight tells of a young punster who is called home by his mother to avenge the death of his father who was murdered in a feud. The young man has been north so long that he is weaned away from the primitive mode of settling disputes. Not believing in the teachings of the Gun he resorts to the teachings of the Bible, thus causing every one to think him a coward. His preaching comes to an abrupt ending when his younger sister is attacked by one of the men from the other family. It is then that he takes a gun and goes forth to revenge the deed. The story is packed full of thrills and you will enjoy every minute. Fatty Arbuckle in "The Waiter's Bull," the two reel Keystone comedy which will also be shown will cure every case of blues in Clearfield. It is a scream. See both of these great pictures at the Opera House tonight.

"BATTLE OF HEARTS"

Special Feature at the Globe Today

Martin Cane (William Farnum) owner of a fishing fleet known as "a man of iron determination" is in love with the daughter of a fisherman, Maida Rhodes, who has centered her love on Joe Sprague, a worthless, shiftless youth of the village, a son of Quincey Sprague, the keeper of the lighthouse.

Cane, driven to desperation by the refusal of Maida to return his love, goes to sea in the teeth of a great storm, is wrecked one sailor is drowned and Martin Cane is found upon the beach almost dead.

Plans for the wedding of Joe Sprague and Maida are rushed as Martin Cane appears as though from the dead. He forbids the wedding. Young Sprague, terrified at the appearance of the man, whom he had believed dead, leaves the village for the city; is fleeced of his money and joins a band of smugglers.

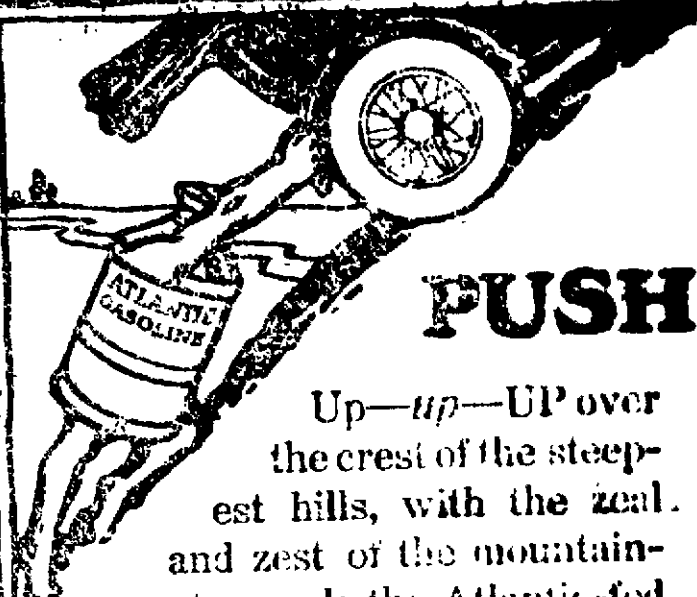

Cane, ruined by the loss of his fleet secures a berth on a vessel of Captain Rhodes, the father of Maida. After he has signed he learns that the real owner is Maida Rhodes and on the first trip she assumes command and gives orders which would result in disaster. Cane mutinies and takes from her the revolver with which she endeavors to enforce her commands.

The smugglers with Joe Sprague are on the island and Joe robs his father, the lighthouse keeper, managing that suspicion shall fall upon Cane. Maida Rhodes drives her vessel upon the rocks after Sprague has darkened the lighthouse to aid the smugglers. She is rescued by Cane who organizes the villagers to arrest the smugglers. Sprague escapes and swims out to Cane's vessel on which Maida is recovering and is given protection. When Cain returns Sprague prepares to kill him. Maida by a scream of terror warns Cane. He wrests the knife from Sprague's hand; then followed a terrific fight between the two men. Cane overcomes his rival and is unhesitatingly chosen by Maida.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

A little son of Ed Buck was taken to Clearfield hospital one day last week suffering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Law McKendrick, who took a trip on his new motorcycle to Washington, Carlisle and Gettysburg, returned home Saturday.

The High School foot ball team who went to Lock Haven Saturday to contest in a game were trimmed to the tune of 20 to 0.

A number of Moose men went to Glen Campbell yesterday to attend some sort of a gathering of the clan held in that town.

Messrs. Jake Kerchner and Dr. Schlappe left yesterday for Martha, Centre county, and will indulge in a week's hunt for wild turkey.

J. J. Crisman returned from Pittsburgh Friday bringing with him a new automobile, which he had sold to a party at Wallacetown.

Invitation cards are out announcing that the marriage of Miss Katharine Dyer to Alfred W. Evans will take place on Wednesday, November 1st.

Austin Passmore, a lad aged twelve years, is quite ill at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Passmore, with typhoid pneumonia.

James Maneval, who has been spending more than a week in Curwensville, left Friday for his station or ship in Boston, Mass, where he expects to be located for the next six months.

Messrs. Lon Ammerman, Ed Webb, Billy McClure and Andy Bressler have gone to the mountains near Unio, Centre county, where they will put in the next few days hunting wild turkey.

Mrs. Ann Hann, of Saluvia, Fulton county, is a visitor in the home of her nephew, James Mumma. She will spend a portion of her week's visit with another nephew, Wm Mumma, out on Chestnut Ridge.

C. E. McGary, formerly of Curwensville, but for the past six years located at Connellsville where he holds a responsible position with the B. & O. railroad, is spending his vacation with his brother, Harry McGary, in this place.

Webb Karstetter returned home Friday evening from a week's trip through parts of West Virginia. His itinerary took him to Norfolk, Newport News, and other towns. He was well pleased with the country and said that he would like to live down there.

Janitor Frank Weaver has been appointed trustee officer by the school board. He will be confirmed regularly at the next session of the board. William Durnell has also been appointed to the janitorship of the South Side school building.

John Pifer, who follows well and prospect drilling, is now engaged in sinking a hole on the James Smith farm near the McClure line. He is boring down to strike a point in the soft clay mines, and when he gets through an electric pump will be installed in the mine to be used in forcing water from the workings out through the hole now being sunk.

Mike Pauvah, an Austrian, was thrown from the 11:15 P. R. R. train Saturday night near the Frank Bloom home. He was passing from one car to another when the accident occurred. The train was stopped some distance above and men went back and found him sitting along the road. He was brought to town and Drs. Blair and King went over him, finding him all right, with the exception of a sprained arm, skinned face and bruised body. He is 44 years old, married with four children and resides in a shanty at the Bickford brick works.

An exodus of bird hunters to the mountains Sunday was something to be wondered at. Automobiles containing men, dogs camp outfits, etc., passed through town constantly during the day, both directions but all leading for hunting grounds. In fact gunners will be so numerous in the woods this season that it will be hardly safe to travel the public highways. As a hunter expressed himself last evening, "A good many that carry a gun in the woods are not sportsmen, but pure and simple game hogs."

RAILWAY MAIL JUBILEE

New York, Oct. 16.—The establishment of the first railway post office service in the United States on Oct. 15, 1864, between New York and Philadelphia, will be commemorated tomorrow night by a dinner party at the Hotel Imperial to be given by the New York City branch of the Railway Mail Association. Among the guests will be Postmaster-General Burleson.

METHODISTS OF CURWENSVILLE CELEBRATE

Sunday School of Church Stages Most Interesting and Instructive Program Yesterday

METHODISM 150 YEARS OLD

The "Methodist Pioneers" program as carried out by the Methodist Sunday school of Curwensville, yesterday proved to be one of the most interesting as well as instructive events that has taken place in that edifice for many a day. The day and time was designed to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of American Methodism under Philip Embury. The story of the heroisms, hardships and achievements of the early itinerants was told with vividness that made one almost believe that he or they were actually living in the times that these things occurred. The juvenile members of the school had their part to perform as well as the adults, and they did it with a vim and earnestness that was pleasing to all. Excellent music for the occasion had been provided for which added greatly to the pleasure of the attendance. Miss Ruth McDowell portrayed the life history and work of Philip Embury. Dean Hile had the Robert Strawbridge, an Irish lad who helped to lay the foundation of Methodism in this country. Captain Webb, one of the picturesque figures in the early history of the church, and whose life was devoted to the work, was given by James M. Humphrey. Miss Blanche Graham told all about Francis Asbury, who was the first Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church elected by American preachers for the work in America. "The Heroism of the early Days" was omitted as the time was too short for its recital. "The Harvest of the Years," was a subject taken care of by Edgar Buzell, giving facts and figures dating from 1766 to 1916. An address by the pastor Rev. Max Lantz, "The Challenge of the Future" was one that was eloquent and touched the heart of all Christian people present. The minister's whole heart and soul was wrapped up in his subject and it was one of those oratorical masterpieces of which this pastor is renowned, when talking on any subject relative to his calling. At the evening service the principal event was the address delivered by Squire John Dale, on the early history of Methodism and its growth from year to year to the present time. Many long forgotten events in connection of the church work was brought out, both informative and instructive and the speaker held the attention of the congregation from start to finish. To the younger members of the church his talk was an object lesson as to what the pioneers of the faith had to contend with and the trials and persecutions they had to bear while pursuing the faith they had chosen. Mr. Dale is a clear and comprehensive speaker and everybody enjoyed his talk immensely.

By Hamilton

(United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, Oct. 14.—Clarence Rowland, manager of the Chicago White Sox is an unenvied man. He stands today the topic of knockers, the undeserving recipient of derision from a bevy of Chicago fans.

And Rowland's position is a peculiar one. He could have done nothing to correct it even if he had won a pennant for the White Sox. The credit would not have been his. The Chicago fans, much the same as any other species of fans, would have placed the crown on the brow of another and would have refused to see it alight elsewhere.

Rowland started this season with a club acknowledged to be strong enough, on paper, to walk away with the American league championship. But he struggled in the depths of second, third and even fourth place most of the season. For a short time he had his team out in front, and then began to falter.

When the crack appeared in the drive of his men, Charles Comiskey sent out a rush order for Kid Gleason to report. The kid did report and the White Sox immediately began to come back. The result was that Gleason was given the credit. No matter if it was Rowland's efforts which had elevated the Sox into their final chance at the pennant, Rowland would not have been given the credit. It would have gone to Gleason.

Now the Chicago fans have placed Rowland and Joe Tinker in the same boat. Both of their heads are due to drop, they declare, and they are picking Kid Gleason as the most prominent bidder for the managerial post with the White Sox.

Their critics declare Rowland has had two chances with one of the greatest teams the American league ever saw, but they say he has failed to make good. They have entirely overlooked the fact that Eddie Collins slumped in his hitting and that Red Rader was taken ill at a point where his work would have done the most good.

Rowland deserves some commendation for the fight he has made with his team, even if he didn't send it hurrying down the season's path to a pennant. It is a good guess that the former minor leaguer will start the season at the helm of the Chicago entry.

Joe Tinker's case is different. Tinker had a pretty fair team and he wrecked it to run in some Federal leaguers and new talent from the minors. He has failed to build a team and his crown apparently is tottering. But it looks as if the knockers have begun too early on Rowland.

20 YRS. YOUNGER ASSERTS WOMAN DUE TO TANLAC

Marie Schulz Tells of Remarkable Recovery Through Using Master Medicine.

"I feel twenty years younger and sleep like a log when I go to bed," said Marie Schulz, of Grantham street North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa., "since I began to take Tanlac."

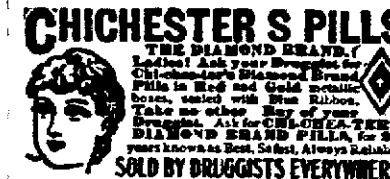

"I had suffered for a long time with rheumatism, gas in my stomach, shortness of breath and my bowels were always giving me trouble."

"I often went for days at a time without sleeping, because of my terrible nervous condition."

"So I got a bottle. I had no idea I would get such quick relief. After I had taken about half a bottle, the rheumatic pains left my limbs. My stomach got so good that I could eat my meals and never feel bad afterward. My bowels got regular. When I would be down at night, my head would hardly touch the pillow until I would be fast asleep. When I awakened in the morning, I felt rested and could hardly believe it was myself."

"Since I have been taking Tanlac, I have not been troubled with gas pressing up against my heart, I eat what I please, I go out among the neighbors and visit them and my friends, and if I want to go to a theater I go and have a nice time. I never am afraid of being sick any more."

Tanlac is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McPherson, where the premier preparation can now be had.

FARM LOAN BOARD RESUMES HEARINGS

Washington, Oct. 16.—Hearings by the Federal farm loan board to gather information for its guidance in dividing the country into districts and locating the twelve farm loan banks created by the rural credits act are to be resumed this week with sessions at Trenton, N. J., Harrisburg, Pa., and Baltimore. The board plans to start on its southern trip the middle of next month and will hold hearings in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, proceeding as far as Arizona. Returning, it will hold hearings in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and West Virginia. This will complete the board's canvass of the entire country. It is expected that the proposed banks will be established and ready for business about February 1.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 16.—With the meeting of the American Missionary Association in annual session here tomorrow, leaders in Congregational affairs are to enter upon the second stage of efforts for a new Congregationalism in America. For upwards of a decade they have been perfecting their preliminary plans, and at the meeting about to begin arrangements will be perfected for putting these plans into practical operation. President Henry Churchill, King of Oberlin College, who is also president of the association, will be on hand to further the association's plan, and to make two of the principal addresses. President Vincent of the University of Minnesota and a number of other men of note also are on the program.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe—Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by using a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft cloth with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure mitigation or prevention of disease.

Incendiary Succeeds In Second Attempt To Burn House

Farm House Belonging to W. P. Norris On The Wm. Brosius Farm Burned To Ground at 10 Last Night

HOUSE WAS UNOCCUPIED WHEN BURNED

A farm house belonging to Wesley P. Norris and situated on the old William Brosius farm at Montgomery was totally destroyed by a fire last night which was first discovered about 10 o'clock, entailing a loss to Mr. Norris of $2,000 with no insurance.

The fire, which was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, had gained such headway by the time it was discovered by neighbors that no attempt was made to save the building, the few people present devoting their time and attention to saving the adjoining outbuildings.

The work was undoubtedly that of a secret enemy of Mr. Norris, as this was the second attempt within three months to burn the building, as it will be remembered that on June 28th, while the house was occupied, a determined effort was made to burn it. At that time the incendiary took a quantity of waste from the journal box of a freight car at the B. & P. station and locating it at three different points about the building set fire to it. The fumes from the burning waste wakened the inmates of the house and the fire discovered and the dastardly attempt frustrated.

Since that time the occupants moved out, fearing a repetition of the attempt to burn, and for some time the house had been unoccupied.

The fire bug entered the house this time and planted his fire in the room farthest from the road, with the idea in mind that by the time the flames were seen by neighbors or passersby the fire would be beyond control.

Mr. Norris has an idea as to who the perpetrator of the deed is and at the proper time will offer a reward for his apprehension and a determined effort will be made to bring the guilty party to justice.

Auto Wreck Near Old Barrett Station

Cars Belonging to Dr. Woods of Houtzdale and John Cox Collide

An automobile accident occurred on Sunday evening about 7:30 at Barrett station which resulted in practically demolishing one of the cars, but fortunately all of the occupants of both cars escaped without injury.

Dr. Woods and his wife of Houtzdale, were on their way home from a visit with friends in Clearfield, and at the point mentioned met the car owned and driven by John Cox, of Water street, in which Mr. and Mrs. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. John Starr were riding. There is a slight curve in the road at this point and as the Cox car rounded the curve and struck the straight road its lights flashed in the face of the driver of the other car and blinded him momentarily. His car swerved and the two machines came together, a head-on collision being averted only by inches. The Cox car was mid-swiped losing a wheel and having the entire left side torn out, but beyond a bad scare and severe shaking up the occupants were uninjured.

Dr. Woods was able to continue his journey while the Orutt garage was called upon to go out and tow the wrecked car and its occupants into town.

BAYONNE STRIKERS WILL STAY OUT

Bayonette, N. J., Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Fifteen hundred Standard Oil workers in their first session today voted to remain out but the session appointed a committee to talk with Standard Oil officials. The session resulted in one arrest. Frank Parkinson leader of the men attacked the police "for not giving the workers a square deal" and was pounced upon by the police and taken to headquarters after the session.

First French Boat Arrives Unharmed

Caruso, McClure, Gatti-Casazza Were Among Notables on Board

New York, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Unharmed, the French liner Lafayette with many notables aboard, docked here today. She started from Bordeaux a week last Sunday and Paris and the United States had great fears for her safety because of the recent submarine warfare at the gateway to America. The Lafayette is the finest French passenger ship now afloat. It carried 324 persons, including Enrico Caruso, Frank A. Munsey, S. S. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Miss Anne Morgan, John Barrett, of the Pan-American union, and Gatti-Casazza. That the Lafayette arrived unharmed caused great relief along the water front. The American liner St Paul which started for Europe was heavily marked with the name "American Liner" before entering the danger zone.

Progress Prints Fake Coon Hunting Story

Proves that Hunters Know the Game Laws and Read Progress

Do hunters know the game laws? Do hunters read the Progress? Several days ago the Progress correspondent from Curwensville published an item relative to a coon hunt. The item was intended for a lead and it served its purpose admirably. It was printed with the intention of bringing out three points, namely: How many hunters were conversant with the game law; how many who were not hunters would try to ascertain who the successful hunters were and how many of them read the Progress. Up until Sunday evening, by actual count, 47 hunters called our attention to the fact that those coon hunters were killing game out of season, 106 made it their business to try and find out who the hunters were, and as to how many read the item can only be estimated. That was all there was to the item.

FRANCE RECOGNIZES CRETE GOVERNMENT

Nation Set Up By Venizelos Quickly Recognized by France Whose Consul Calls

BRITISH ENTERED VURSUK

Paris, Oct. 16.—French and German troops were fighting in a duel battle near Salig and Sallisel, General Folk reported. French troops repulsed the enemy counter attack to recover lost positions. The French government has recognized the national government set up on the island of Trete by former Premier Venizelos of Greece, according to an Athens dispatch to the central news. The consul made a formal call on the Venizelos government. In the north German troops in last night's early fighting used heavy artillery and liquid fire but were unsuccessful, General Haig reported. Teutonic forces have broken through the Symos Pass. Austro-German forces are attempting a drive southwest along the railway to cut off the main supply line to the Roumanian army in the north.

London, Oct. 16.—A British patrol penetrated the Macedonian village of Vursuk driving back Bulgarian detachments it was officially announced today. British aviators attacked the Buk bridge.

Woodland Blacksmith Meets With Accident

Refractory Mule Throws Him Over Work Bench—Iron Pierces His Side

Paul Shirey, blacksmith at Woodland, met with a serious accident while at work in his shop Saturday last. Mr. Shirey was engaged in shoeing a refractory mule and in jumping about the animal threw him over a work bench and in falling he struck on a piece of iron which pierced his side, penetrating the liver.

Dr. Wilson of Clearfield, was called and had the injured man removed to the Clearfield hospital where his injuries are being attended to.

AMERICAN HUMANE ASSOCIATION.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 16.—Representatives of more than 500 anti-cruelty societies in the United States and Canada are here to take part in the fortieth annual convention of the American Association of Humane Societies. The sessions will continue four days and will be presided over by Dr. William O. Stillman, of Albany, N. Y., a feature of the convention will be a celebration in honor of the 50th anniversary of the founding of anti-cruelty work in America. The first two days of the convention are to be devoted to work for children, and the last two days to the work for animal protection. One afternoon has been set aside for the American Red Star animal relief work. Dr. Charles W. Delano of Boston will report on the condition along the Mexican border.

LIVING STANDARD IS LOWER WITH COST INCREASE

Noted Economist Announces Result of Investigation into Living Cost and Wages

FOODSTUFFS 50 PER CT HIGHER

New York, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—A lower standard of living is resulting from the increased cost of living and no increase in wages, W. F. Pearson, economist announced today as a result of a serious investigation. Pearson said his investigation showed that a family of five cannot live on less than $22.75 a week. This is equal to a $17.00 purchase four years ago. Food stuffs having increased 50 per cent. in the last four years according to Pearson's figures. Flour is up 100 per cent, vegetables 79 to 110 per cent. Coal jumped from $5.25 to $7.15 a ton, hardware 40 per cent and lumber 30 to 40 per cent, and dry goods have made big jumps.

EL PASO EXPECTS MANY VISITORS

El Pas, Texas, Oct. 16.—Unless all signs are misleading El Paso will entertain the largest crowd of visitors in her history the ten days beginning today. Hundreds of strangers, from different parts of the United States, are already here to attend the international soil products exposition and the series of international congresses which will deal with live problems of interest and importance to those engaged in agriculture and the kindred industries.

There will be practically three events in one—the soil products exposition, at which has been assembled agricultural, industrial and commercial products from 20 States, all in competition for valuable prizes; the annual sessions of the International membership from two hemispheres Farm Congress, which draws its and prosecutes an extended educational campaign, and the annual sessions of the International Irrigation Congress.

PREDICTS GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP IN 10 YEARS

Washington, Oct. 16.—Uncle Sam is going into the railroad business within the next decade, according to Benjamin C. March, New York executive secretary of the real preparedness committee of the Intercollegiate Socialist society, an organization backed morally and financially by Amos Pinchot.

"Every railroad in the U. S.—252,000 miles of them," said March today, "will pass from private ownership within ten years to be operated in the interest of the public instead of the interest of privilege."

"The railroad capitalists, being human, wish to get wine prices for rain water. It is our mission to squeeze all the water out of the roads before the government takes them over."

Declaring ultimate government operation of all roads, inevitable, March said "the real problem is to see that the properties are not unloaded on the public at more than their actual value."

MEETING OF FEDERAL FARM LOAN BOARD AT HARRISBURG

William G. McAdoo, Secretary of Treasury, Will Conduct Hearing Tomorrow

Invitations are Sent out to Farmers Inviting them to be Present at the Hearing and Give First Hand Information to Board.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 14.—(Special)—A hearing of great importance to the farmers and farm organizations of Pennsylvania will be held at Harrisburg on October 17th by the Federal Farm Loan board.

This hearing is for the purpose of getting information to guide the board in determining the boundaries of the twelve Federal Land Bank districts into which the country is to be divided for the administration of the new rural credits law, known as the Federal Farm Loan act. The session will be held in the federal building at Harrisburg.

The members of the Federal Farm Loan board who will conduct this hearing are Hon. William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, George W. Norris, farm loan commissioner, Herbert Quick, Captain W. S. A. Smith, and Charles E. Lobdell.

The board has issued an invitation to all farmers and farm organizations of Pennsylvania to attend this hearing to get information about the operation of the Farm Loan act, and to furnish the board with information about the farm loan needs of the state. It has also asked interested cities to present their claims for the location of one of the twelve Federal land banks.

Farmers will be asked to give information regarding the prevailing rates of interest on first mortgage loans; the difficulty of getting extensions; the rate of commissions charged; the development of farms as affected by credit; farm tenantry as affected by the ability of tenants to borrow; and any other fact that will give the board an understanding of the farm needs of the state.

The new Federal Farm Loan act provides a way for the farmer or prospective farmer to borrow money on long time mortgages at actual cost. The government provides the machinery for assembling capital to be loaned to farm owners or prospective farm owners. The loans may run up to 50 per cent. of the value of the land use as security and 20 per cent. of the value of the improvements. The loans will be made at a low rate of interest not yet determined, but it will be less than 6 per cent. Provision is made for the borrower to pay off the debt, interest and principal through periods of from five to forty years, at his own option.

The legislation is expected to prove a great boon to those sections of the country where farm developments have been retarded because of high interest rates, and it is predicted that it will tend to make agricultural prosperity permanent and uniform, stabilize and equalize interest rates, and greatly improve the condition of the farmer.

The nation-wide interest in the provisions of the bill is indicated by the fact that more than 100,000 inquiries have come to the Treasury department for information about it. Secretary McAdoo predicts that the banks will be established and ready to make loans early in 1917.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Business Men's gym class at the Y. M. C. A. commences action this evening at 5:15. This class is open to any and every business and professional man in Clearfield and meets every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening from 5:15 to 6. Every man of sedentary habits needs the kind of relaxation and exercise provided for in this class. If a man is run down and tired, the exercise received in this class will build him up and make him feel like a new man. If he is fat and developing a corpulent habit he can in a very short time be reduced to normal condition. This class is worthy of every man's consideration.

Mrs. D. W. McCurdy and son John P. returned Saturday from a week's visit with friends at Carlisle and other points in that section of the state. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Martha Rhoads of Reading who will spend some time at the McCurdy home on Cherry street.

U BOAT ATTACK WILL NOT STOP WAR SHIPPING

Marine Men Believe That the Raider Has Turned Back Home And Will Molest No More

NO NEW RAIDS ARE EXPECTED

New York, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Shipping munitions to war-ringing Europe will continue unabated unless submarine attacks to the American gateway would be more severe than they have been to date, the marine men said today. Discussing the possibility of new raids the safety of the giant French liner Lafayette, the Scandinavian liner Hellig Olav, and the American liner St. Paul lent strength to the thought that the submarine raiders had speeded homeward. The Lafayette dimmed her lights when coming through the danger zone but encountered no enemy. One of the British shippers said that the submarine raids had not "effected the munition supply in the least" the only delay being in holding the vessels at this port which delayed their sailing only a few days.

WORLD'S GREATEST WATER RESERVOIR OPENED TODAY

Elephant Butte, N. M., Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—When the golden key which started the waters of the Rio Grande river flowing through the spillways of the great new Elephant Butte dam was turned today 20,000 acres of fertile land in the chain of valleys in New Mexico, Texas, were held here at the dam, about 125 miles up the river from El Paso and about 1175 miles below Albuquerque and marked the completion of the Reclamation service's greatest project one of the most pretentious of its kind in the history of the world.

The Elephant Butte dam is a mass of concrete and steel thrown across the Rio Grande river on the desert of New Mexico at the point where a great rock, shaped like a mastodon elephant, seemed to drink from the Rio Grande. This giant impounding dam has formed the largest irrigation reservoir in the world. More than forty-five miles in length and eight miles across, the lake stores the melted snows of the Colorado and New Mexican mountain ranges and these waters are allowed to flow through the spillways of the dam when the land needs moisture. At the conclusion of the elaborate dedicatory exercises, the first session of the Twenty-third International Irrigation congress was held at the dam. "The dedication of Elephant Butte dam today is an event of worldwide importance," said James G. McNary, chairman of the Board of control of the Irrigation congress. "It will justify the faith of the people of the southwest, who have staked their all on the fertility of the soil and the ability of the project to carry waters to the lands when most needed. It will reward the pioneer men and women of the lower Rio Grande valleys from Albuquerque to Old Mexico."

Train Backs Up, Train Stopposed "Dead One" to Curwensville Where He Fell

CAUSE "SQUIRMEL WHISKY"

A Curwensville foreigner came to Clearfield Saturday night and fell up on "squirrel whiskey."

In company with several companions he boarded the 10:45 P. M. train for home. He sat at the window of the rear coach watching the telegraph poles flitting past. The train was reached when the "squirrel" in the whiskey went low him to sit still no longer and determined to get out and climb out of the poles.

The train was bowling along at 40 mile an hour gait, but that made no difference to the man with the whisky. He waived the formality of having the conductor stop the train at Curwensville station and stepped right off the rear platform into space. When the ground hit him the impact knocked the aches out of the pipe of the steam locomotive at the Clearfield station. The train nearly and after about a dozen end over end revolutions the train wound up in the ditch along the track.

His companions notified the train crew and the train was stopped several hundred yards above and below back to where the victim was. He was picked up unconscious and taken aboard the train. When Curwensville was reached the injured man was summoned and after a quick examination and a few punches to his ribs he wakened up and bellowed at his feet but very little the worse for wear, aside from the fact that his head and face were cut up slightly and he needed a new suit of clothes. The doctor's examination of the man, who is known to his associates as "Black Mike" resulted in diagnosing a ludicrous situation for the unlooked although no doubt quite a painful one for Mike. When he fell from the train Mike hit on his head in a under pile and when picked up was unable to speak and was clutching to Curwensville seemingly unconscious, and as a careful examination of the man failed to locate any broken bones or bruises enough to account for his supposed unconsciousness or inability to speak, the medical men were puzzled for a time, but finally discovered that Mike's mouth was so full of cinders that he was unable to talk if he wanted to. With the aid of a probe one of the doctors relieved him of about a bushel full of cinders and they found there was nothing the matter with Mike's talking machine and the soon aided them to determine that about the only thing injured about Mike was his feelings.

Day of Thanks will be Observed on November 26th

Long Branch, Oct. 16.—(By United Press)—Thanksgiving day will be the last Thursday in November as usual, which means that it will fall on the last day of the month. Suggestions have been made that it be not further a week as it came so close to Christmas this year and have November as the official day. It was hoped, however, that the President would name November 20, as the day in the proclamation.

PUT US WISE.

Once more we have an example of what "Squirrel Whiskey" will make a man do. Now honestly, is there any such thing as "Squirrel Whiskey" or is it all the same provided you take enough of it? If there is a difference, please tell us where they sell it, cause we don't want to get any of it in our bottle.

LET US DO LIKEWISE.

Brazil will today pass a piece of legislation prohibiting the landing of persons who have been mutilated in the European war. It is a miracle that our own shores have not become the feeding grounds of myriads of wandering cripples from Europe by this time and it is bound to come before long. Europe will be only too glad to foist her war torn dependants upon us and charitable like we will accept them and help in another way to pay Europe's war debt.

HUNTERS SHOULD BACK UP THE LAW.

There is entirely too much Sunday hunting and hunting out of season. Every day you hear whispers on the street of somebody getting two birds yesterday or somebody getting four on Sunday. That this form of criminality is being engaged in is generally known to all and anyone knowing of these happenings should immediately report them to the Game Warden. Unfortunately the Game Warden does not hear of the violations and instead of having all the hunters at his back in the enforcement of the law the hunters are evading their duty to the man who is trying to enforce the law and thereby protect them. It is the duty of every man who carries a gun to co-operate with the Game Warden and report every infraction of law to him. The Progress calls on all readers of the Hunter's Page to be real hunters and not game hogs.

BLOWING YOUR HORN.

"Whosoever bloweth not his own 'bazoo,' the same shall not be heard."

The meaning of an old proverb adapted to present day slang method of expression. Just as true today as the day it was written. Every one has to make their own way in the world and sometimes we have to remind others of our good deeds in order to get a hearing and just recompense. Generally a man betrays himself by his expressions of and declarations of modesty. One having a profession or business cannot afford to cover it up under false modesty. To be afraid or ashamed to discuss or speak of your business or profession is an acknowledgement of your own lack of confidence in it. Imagine the painter who would be afraid to show his skill. Imagine the business man who would have good values in his store and still be too modest and retiring to tell his customers of them. Imagine the automobile salesman who would tell you that he had a good car to sell and would not have enough confidence in it to say "Come out for a spin and I can show you it will take Cemetery Hill on high gear."

A great many people are misunderstood. We call them cranks because they daily preach that which they believe. We should give all credit to the man who firmly believes in his profession, his business or in certain principles and steadfastly adheres to them though his loyalty to his convictions brings him ridicule and harsh criticism. Without men of strong convictions and stiff backbone we would be a nation of wavering peons. Give all credit to the man who preaches his belief.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

"The strongly fortified town of Vidin (also spelled Vidin and Vidin), from which the Bulgarians have made an attack on the Rumanian town of Salafat, is one of the most prosperous grain ports on the right bank of the Danube below Belgrade," says today's war geography bulletin of the National Geographic society.

"Sited in the northwest corner of the kingdom of Bulgaria, 130 miles in an air line southeast of the Serbian capital of Belgrade, 100 miles northwest of Sofia, and 170 west of Bucharest, this city was, before the outbreak of this war, a center of activity for trade between Austria and the Balkan states. Vidin is a neutral stronghold because of the extensive surrounding marshes formed by the numerous small streams flowing into the Danube at this point. The fortifications were razed following the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78, but they were reconstructed during the Serbo-Bulgarian conflict of 20 years ago. Portions of the old wall and four of its nine towers still encircle the old town but the newer section lies along the bank of the river.

"An interesting element among the city's 16,000 inhabitants is a settlement of Spanish Jews, 1,500 in number, descendants of a small colony which fled from Spain during the Inquisition of the 16th century. The Turks residing in the town number nearly 3,000.

"While the trade in cereals and fruits, the considerable fisheries, and the numerous breweries afford livelihood for the majority of the Vidinians, the city is chiefly noted for the beautiful filigree work in gold and silver which is manufactured here.

"Like most of the towns and forts on the Danube in the vicinity of the Hungarian border, Vidin suffered sorely from the tides of Turks and Christians as they swept through and over it in the 17th century. In the Austro-Turkish struggle of 1682-99 it was captured by Louis, margrave of Baden, one of the most celebrated generals of his day, but it remained in his hands only one year, for in the succeeding campaign it was recaptured by the Ottoman forces which also retook Nisch and Belgrade.

"Vidin was given its 'place in the sun' by a notoriously ruthless but remarkably efficient chieftain of the Krjalis, Pashan Oulu, who here established an independent state in 1704. The Krjalis were disbanded Turkish soldiers and desperadoes who during the last half of the 18th century wandered through Bulgaria preying upon peasants, slaying, robbing, burning all who were so unfortunate as to stand in their path. Pashan Oulu amalgamated these bandits and highwaymen and as their leader established himself at Vidin, where he was able to defy and defeat three Turkish armies sent against him. He erected handsome buildings, maintained order within his own capital, levied taxes and even issued a special coinage. When he finally submitted to a superior force sent against him the Porte deemed it wiser to reinstate him as governor than to displace him with a less forcible subject. With his death in 1807 Vidin's importance waned.

"In the Russo-Turkish war of 1877-78 Prince Charles, of Roumania, at the head of an army of 35,000 men, with his own hand fired the first cannon against Vidin from the Rumanian town of Calafat. At that time the Bulgarian stronghold was garrisoned by Osman Pasha's army of 30,000 Turks who had just completed their successful campaign against Serbia. Eight years later, in the Serbo-Bulgarian struggle, Vidin was successfully defended by the Bulgarians. Calafat, on the Rumanian side of the river, is not more than half as populous as Vidin. It was founded

"GUN OR GOSPEL?"

The story of the triangle feature "The Apostle of Vengeance" which will be shown at the Opera House tonight tells of a young pupster who is called home by his mother to avenge the death of his father who was murdered in a feud. The young man has been north so long that he is weaned away from the primitive mode of settling disputes. Not believing in the teachings of the Gun he resorts to the teachings of the Bible, thus causing every one to think him a coward. His preaching comes to an abrupt ending when his younger sister is attacked by one of the men from the other family. It is then that he takes a gun and goes forth to revenge the deed. The story is packed full of thrills and you will enjoy every minute. Fatty Arbuckle in "The Waiter's Bull, the two reel Keystone comedy which will also be shown will cure every case of blues in Clearfield. It is a scream. See both of these great pictures at the Opera House tonight.

"BATTLE OF HEARTS"

Special Feature at the Globe Today

Martin Cane (William Farnum) owner of a fishing fleet known as "a man of iron determination" is in love with the daughter of a fisherman, Maida Rhodes, who has centered her love on Joe Sprague, a worthless, shiftless youth of the village, a son of Quincey Sprague, the keeper of the lighthouse.

Cane, driven to desperation by the refusal of Maida to return his love, goes to sea in the teeth of a great storm, is wrecked one sailor is drowned and Martin Cane is found upon the beach almost dead.

Plans for the wedding of Joe Sprague and Maida are rushed as Martin Cane appears as though from the dead. He forbids the wedding. Young Sprague, terrified at the appearance of the man, whom he had believed dead, leaves the village for the city; is fleeced of his money and joins a band of smugglers.

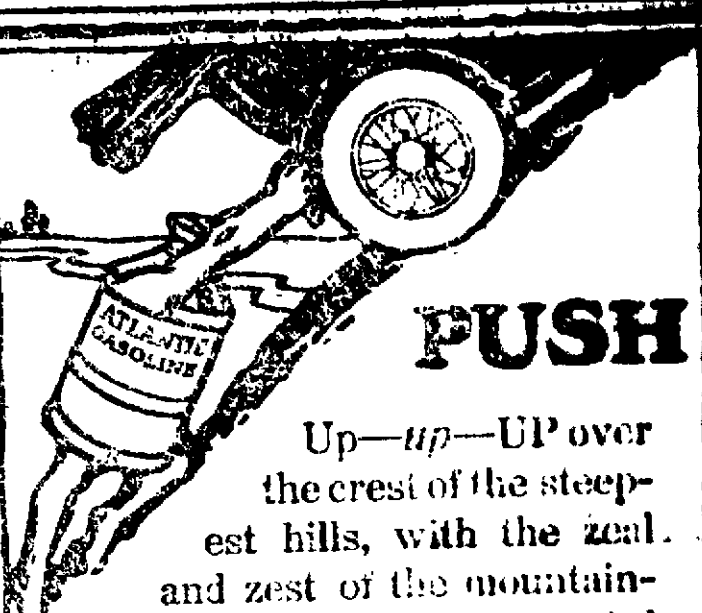

Cane, ruined by the loss of his fleet secures a berth on a vessel of Captain Rhodes, the father of Maida. After he has signed he learns that the real owner is Maida Rhodes and on the first trip she assumes command and gives orders which would result in disaster. Cane mutinies and takes from her the revolver with which she endeavors to enforce her commands.

The smugglers with Joe Sprague are on the island and Joe robs his father, the lighthouse keeper, managing that suspicion shall fall upon Cane. Maida Rhodes drives her vessel upon the rocks after Sprague has darkened the lighthouse to aid the smugglers. She is rescued by Cane who organizes the villagers to arrest the smugglers. Sprague escapes and swims out to Cane's vessel on which Maida is recovering and is given protection. When Cain returns Sprague prepares to kill him. Maida by a scream of terror warns Cane. He wrests the knife from Sprague's hand; then followed a terrific fight between the two men. Cane overcomes his rival and is unhesitatingly chosen by Maida.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

A little son of Ed Buck was taken to Clearfield hospital one day last week suffering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Law McKendrick, who took a trip on his new motorcycle to Washington, Carlisle and Gettysburg, returned home Saturday.

The High School foot ball team who went to Lock Haven Saturday to contest in a game were trimmed to the tune of 20 to 0.

A number of Moose men went to Glen Campbell yesterday to attend some sort of a gathering of the clan held in that town.

Messrs. Jake Kerchner and Dr. Schlappe left yesterday for Martha, Centre county, and will indulge in a week's hunt for wild turkey.

J. J. Crisman returned from Pittsburgh Friday bringing with him a new automobile, which he had sold to a party at Wallacetown.

Invitation cards are out announcing that the marriage of Miss Katharine Dyer to Alfred W. Evans will take place on Wednesday, November 1st.

Austin Passmore, a lad aged twelve years, is quite ill at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Passmore, with typhoid pneumonia.

James Maneval, who has been spending more than a week in Curwensville, left Friday for his station or ship in Boston, Mass., where he expects to be located for the next six months.

Messrs. Lon Ammerman, Ed Webb, Billy McClure and Andy Bressler have gone to the mountains near Unio, Centre county, where they will put in the next few days hunting wild turkey.

Mrs. Ann Hann, of Saluvia, Fulton county, is a visitor in the home of her nephew, James Mumma. She will spend a portion of her week's visit with another nephew, Wm Mumma, out on Chestnut Ridge.

C. E. McGary, formerly of Curwensville, but for the past six years located at Connellsville where he holds a responsible position with the E. & O. railroad, is spending his vacation with his brother, Harry McGary, in this place.

Webb Karstetter returned home Friday evening from a week's trip

through parts of West Virginia. His itinerary took him to Norfolk, Newport News, and other towns. He was well pleased with the country and said that he would like to live down there.

Janitor Frank Weaver has been appointed truancy officer by the school board. He will be confirmed regularly at the next session of the board. William Durnell has also been appointed to the janitorship of the South Side school building.

John Pifer, who follows well and prospect drilling, is now engaged in sinking a hole on the James Smith farm near the McClure line. He is boring down to strike a point in the soft clay mines, and when he gets through an electric pump will be installed in the mine to be used in forcing water from the workings out through the hole now being sunk.

Mike Pauvau, an Austrian, was thrown from the 11:15 P. R. R. train Saturday night near the Frank Bloom home. He was passing from one car to another when the accident occurred. The train was stopped some distance above and men went back and found him sitting along the road. He was brought to town and Drs. Blair and King went over him, finding him all right, with the exception of a sprained arm, skinned face and bruised body. He is 44 years old, married with four children and resides in a shanty at the Bickford brick works.

An exodus of bird hunters to the mountains Sunday was something to be wondered at. Automobiles containing men, dogs camp outfits, etc., passed through town constantly during the day, both directions but all leading for hunting grounds. In fact gunners will be so numerous in the woods this season that it will be hardly safe to travel the public highways. As a hunter expressed himself last evening, "A good many that carry a gun in the woods are not sportsmen, but pure and simple game hogs."

RAILWAY MAIL JUBILEE

New York, Oct. 16.—The establishment of the first railway post office service in the United States on Oct. 15, 1864, between New York and Philadelphia, will be commemorated tomorrow night by a dinner party at the Hotel Imperial to be given by the New York City branch of the Railway Mail Association. Among the guests will be Postmaster-General Burleson.

METHODISTS OF CURWENSVILLE CELEBRATE

Sunday School of Church Stages Most Interesting and Instructive Program Yesterday

METHODISM 150 YEARS OLD

The "Methodist Pioneers" program as carried out by the Methodist Sunday school of Curwensville, yesterday proved to be one of the most interesting as well as instructive events that has taken place in that edifice for many a day. The day and time was designed to celebrate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the beginning of American Methodism under Philip Embury. The story of the heroisms, hardships and achievements of the early itinerants was told with vividness that made one almost believe that he or they were actually living in the times that these things occurred. The juvenile members of the school had their part to perform as well as the adults, and they did it with a vim and earnestness that was pleasing to all. Excellent music for the occasion had been provided for which added greatly to the pleasure of the attendance. Miss Ruth McDowell portrayed the life history and work of Philip Embury. Dean Hile had the Robert Strawbridge, an Irish lad who helped to lay the foundation of Methodism in this country. Captain Webb, one of the picturesque figures in the early history of the church, and whose life was devoted to the work, was given by James M. Humphrey. Miss Blanche Graham told all about Francis Asbury, who was the first Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church elected by American preachers for the work in America. "The Heroism of the early Days" was omitted as the time was too short for its recital. "The Harvest of the Years," was a subject taken care of by Edgar Buzell, giving facts and figures dating from 1766 to 1916. An address by the pastor Rev. Max Lantz, "The Challenge of the Future" was one that was eloquent and touched the heart of all Christian people present. The minister's whole heart and soul was wrapped up in his subject and it was one of those oratorical masterpieces of which this pastor is renowned, when talking on any subject relative to his calling. At the evening service the principal event was the address delivered by Squire John Dale, on the early history of Methodism and its growth from year to year to the present time. Many long forgotten events in connection of the church work was brought out, both informative and instructive and the speaker held the attention of the congregation from start to finish. To the younger members of the church his talk was an object lesson as to what the pioneers of the faith had to contend with and the trials and persecutions they had to bear while pursuing the faith they had chosen. Mr. Dale is a clear and comprehensive speaker and everybody enjoyed his talk immensely.

By Hamilton

(United Press Staff Correspondent) New York, Oct. 14.—Clarence Rowland, manager of the Chicago White Sox is an unenvied man. He stands today the topic of knickers, the undeserving recipient of derision from a bevy of Chicago fans.

And Rowland's position is a peculiar one. He could have done nothing to correct it even if he had won a pennant for the White Sox. The credit would not have been his. The Chicago fans, much the same as any other species of fans, would have placed the crown on the brow of another and would have refused to see it alight elsewhere.

Rowland started this season with a club acknowledged to be strong enough, on paper, to walk away with the American league championship. But he struggled in the depths of second, third and even fourth place most of the season. For a short time he had his team out in front, and then began to falter.

When the crack appeared in the drive of his men, Charles Comiskey sent out a rush order for Kid Gleason to report. The kid did report and the White Sox immediately began to come back. The result was that Gleason was given the credit. No matter if it was Rowland's efforts which had elevated the Sox into their final chance at the pennant, Rowland would not have been given the credit. It would have gone to Gleason.

Now the Chicago fans have placed Rowland and Joe Tinker in the same boat. Both of their heads are due to drop, they declare, and they are picking Kid Gleason as the most prominent bidder for the managerial post with the White Sox.

Their critics declare Rowland has had two chances with one of the greatest teams the American league ever saw, but they say he has failed to make good. They have entirely overlooked the fact that Eddie Collins slumped in his hitting and that Red Rader was taken ill at a point where his work would have done the most good.

Rowland deserves some commendation for the fight he has made with his team, even if he didn't send it hurrying down the season's path to a pennant. It is a good guess that the former minor leaguer will start the season at the helm of the Chicago entry.

Joe Tinker's case is different. Tinker had a pretty fair team and he wrecked it to run in some Federal leaguers and new talent from the minors. He has failed to build a team and his crown apparently is tottering. But it looks as if the knickers have begun too early on Rowland.

20 YRS. YOUNGER ASSERTS WOMAN DUE TO TANLAC

Marie Schulz Tells of Remarkable Recovery Through Using Master Medicine.

"I feel twenty years younger and sleep like a log when I go to bed," said Marie Schulz, of Grantham street North Side, Pittsburgh, Pa., "since I began to take Tanlac."

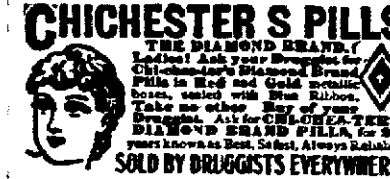

"I had suffered for a long time with rheumatism, gas in my stomach, shortness of breath and my bowels were always giving me trouble."

"I often went for days at a time without sleeping, because of my terrible nervous condition."

"So I got a bottle. I had no idea I would get such quick relief. After I had taken about half a bottle, the rheumatic pains left my limbs. My stomach got so good that I could eat my meals and never feel bad afterward. My bowels got regular. When I would be down at night, my head would hardly touch the pillow until I would be fast asleep. When I awakened in the morning, I felt rested and could hardly believe it was myself."

"Since I have been taking Tanlac, I have not been troubled with gas pressing up against my heart, I eat what I please, I go out among the neighbors and visit them and my friends, and if I want to go to a theater I go and have a nice time. I never am afraid of being sick any more."

Tanlac is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McPherson, where the premier preparation can now be had.

FARM LOAN BOARD RESUMES HEARINGS

Washington, Oct. 16.—Hearings by the Federal farm loan board to gather information for its guidance in dividing the country into districts and locating the twelve farm loan banks created by the rural credits act are to be resumed this week with sessions at Trenton, N. J., Harrisburg, Pa., and Baltimore. The board plans to start on its southern trip the middle of next month and will hold hearings in the South Atlantic and Gulf States, proceeding as far as Arizona. Returning, it will hold hearings in Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and West Virginia. This will complete the board's canvass of the entire country. It is expected that the proposed banks will be established and ready for business about February 1.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY ASSOCIATION

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 16.—With the meeting of the American Missionary Association in annual session here tomorrow, leaders in Congregational affairs are to enter upon the second stage of efforts for a new Congregationalism in America. For upwards of a decade they have been perfecting their preliminary plans, and at the meeting about to begin arrangements will be perfected for putting these plans into practical operation. President Henry Churchill, King of Oberlin College, who is also president of the association, will be on hand to further the association's plan, and to make two of the principal addresses. President Vincent of the University of Minnesota and a number of other men of note also are on the program.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe—Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by using a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft cloth with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure mitigation or prevention of disease.

erate $2.95, $5.00, $6.50, $7.00 and $8.50

Now Is Truly Underwear Buying Time

Aside from the fact that it is best to select your underwear while our assortments are so complete there is the additional reason that warmer underwear is needed because of the sudden changes in weather. If you want to avoid contracting a cold—keep those chilly sensations out of your system on these sharp, cold nights—you will make a note of the underwear needs for YOURSELF and FAMI-LY and purchase AT ONCE.

Ribbed Cotton Vests and Pants at 50c a Garment

Soft fleece lined; closely knitted. Vests have high necks, short or long sleeves; pants are ankle length; double ribbed bottoms.

Full Jersey Ribbed Union Suits, 50c, 75c, $1.00

A very desirable quality, bleached, medium weight. Soft fleece lined.
Snug fitting which prevents that uncomfortable binding when wearing your corset. Two styles—high neck with sleeves; low neck, sleeveless. Ankle length pants.

Medium Weight Wool and Cotton Union Suits, $1.50, $3.50

For the woman who does not care for all wool, who finds all cotton does not provide enough warmth or all wool too heating to the body—these union suits will be certain to appeal. Very elastic rib, has the new flat seam. A very desirable medium weight garment.

This Store's Supremacy In Women's Fall Suits Is Being Demonstrated Daily

We might claim supremacy in styles, variety, quality and values but unless we "make good" our claim, our statements would be taken with a great, big dose of salt.
The evidence of our supremacy is to be found right in the suit section daily—there the suits stand the acid test of inspection and comparison—and when women make this test and then purchase with the utmost satisfaction can rest assured that our claim for supremacy is backed up fully and completely.

Striking Demonstration of Real Value: These Fall Suits For Women at $19.75

Fashionably designed models of cream cords, pop-lins, and gabardines—lined with silk or satin. The newest models included—most of them just received from New York. Fitted or flare models also the new long coated belted ideas. Skirts are plain, flare and gathered in back or sides. Only a few of each style and color.

OUR ATTITUDE TOWARD OUR MOTHER

At the present time the mothers of American children receive less respect and consideration than ever before. I have even seen cases where a young girl before she was of age sent out invitations to a gathering at her home without any mention of her mother. This, as we all know, is most incorrect, for until a girl reaches womanhood or has a home of her own all invitations should be sent out in the mother's name.

Then, too, mothers fail to receive that confidence of their children which is their due. It is always best to consult with mother, girls, no matter what the case may be. Let my word influence you, for I have always done so and never been sorry. At times it is much easier to go to our nearest chum with some tale than it is to mother. But mother is the one you can and should rely upon best.

At all my house parties, week-ends, theatre-parties and other social affairs my dear mother stands by my side and welcomes my guests. Without her I am sure they would lack the tone and finish which they now possess.

Let me tell you something that I think is wonderful and lovely in my friend Ethel. When she and her husband returned from their honeymoon and took possession of their little nest out in the suburbs she gave a dinner to about twenty young girls and boys, her friends and her husband's. Can you guess who was the guest of honor at the dinner? Her little widowed, white-haired mother, who a few weeks before had shed tears as she stood at the altar and supposedly gave her daughter away.
She forgot Ethel's nature, however.
Indeed, as Ethel said at the dinner:
"I wouldn't let mother give me away altogether—even if she wanted to."

You will never make a mistake by making a companion of mother, dear girls. Try it and see!

WESTOVER.

The Westover Glee Club gave a delightful concert in the Irvona Presbyterian church last Friday evening.

The people of Irvona who were fortunate enough to be present, were well pleased with the entertainment and extended an invitation to the club, to give another one sometime in the near future.

All numbers on the program were well received, especially "Tommy's Bear Story" which was well given by Mrs. A. V. Moore.

Mrs. S. S. Clark amused her hearers with "The Mourning Veil" which was not so solemn as would seem by the subject.

Miss Frances Curry in "Specially Jim" kept her audience in laughter from start to finish.

Mrs. A. B. McCully who recited
"The Mouse" depicted the militant suffragette up-to-date in her bravery before all animals including man—except, perhaps the mouse.

A. B. McCully in his "Topical Lecture" had his listeners splitting their sides, so to speak, with laughter.

S. S. Clark, who gave "A Cup of Loving Service" picture the gentle and loving heart of the innocent child in its desire to help the depressed and weary. His selection had with it a moral, which, no doubt set his audience to thinking.

The octettes and quartettes—male and female and mixed—drew hearty applause.

"Bob" Burns of Burnside placed a piano in the home of C. A. Neff last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas and Mr.
and Mrs. Clyde Pearce of Punxsutawney visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bloom Sunday.

Rev. S. S. Clark left for Philadelphia Monday. He expects to be gone all week.

Mr. Olson and family attended the concert at Irvona Friday evening.

Messers Carl Neff and Kenneth Westover with Misses Belle McCordle and Martha Moore motored to Irvona Friday evening. The young ladies are members of the Glee club.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Earl Hobbs was a Tyrone visitor on Friday evening.

Sometime between six and twelve o'clock Thursday evening a cash box containing $125 was stolen from the restaurant of Howard Herrington.
Evidently the thief is some one who is familiar with the premises.

While returning to her work at noon on Thursday Miss Pruella Moore one of the efficient clerks in the office of the Moshannon Coal Mining Co.
was bitten on the arm by a dog. Dr.
A. C. Lynn dressed the wound. Miss Moore was wearing her rain coat at the time which prevented the beast from sinking his teeth as deeply as he would otherwise have done. There are a lot of worthless curs running around town which ought to be stopped.

Squire John C. Hawkins of Philipsburg transacted business in town Saturday morning.

Did The Doctor Order A Prescription?

Bring it here to be filled or, if you have a recipe in which you have lots of faith and want to try it, let us make it up for you. There is always a registered druggist in the store and this department is isolated to guard against errors.
